A BIG BOOST FOR THE ODD FELLOWS

Winning of Prizes by Local Degree Teams at Minneapolis Helps Order.

GOING AFTER MEMBERS

Two Lodges Announce Campaigns and Third Forms a Degree Team With R. E. Crane Head.

Winning of prizes at Minneapolis last week by Moline degree teams promises to result in a big boom for the Odd Fellows in this city. Signs of unusual activity are manifest in all three lodges and membership campaigns are to be undertaken which are expected to bring the total number belonging to a figure far above any ever attained heretofore.

Swedish Olive lodge degree team members will show the Odd Fellows of Moline, East Moline, Rock Island, Davenport and other nearby cities and villages how they won the $500 prize at Minneapolis last week. They will give an exhibition drill at their hall Monday evening. There will be music and other entertainment. The lodge has now 552 members, which is a record never before attained. Tomorrow evening J. B. Oakleaf, member of the lodge, will entertain the degree team and a few others at dinner at his home on Fifteenth street in celebration of the victory at the sovereign grand lodge.

EXHIBITION TUESDAY NIGHT.
Manufacturers lodge No. 485 plans to inaugurate a campaign for membership Tuesday evening, when the degree team of that lodge will give an exhibition drill at the hall in the Skinner annex. This team won second in initiative work at Minneapolis and is conceded to have been a close contender with Swedish Olive lodge for first honors in the first degree work. Manufacturers lodge now has 500 members. There are 14 applications for membership now on hand. Initiations will begin at the October meeting.

A degree team was organized last night by Moline lodge No. 133, with R. E. Crane, captain of the Plow City encampment, as leader. Drills will be started at once so that initiations may be conducted during the winter.

AUTO TRIUMPHS IN A RAIL COLLISION

Last evening, probably for the first time in Moline an automobile came out "first best" in a railroad collision. The auto was from Young's garage and it was traveling south on Sixteenth street. As it crossed the Rock Island tracks a railway velocipede driven by a gasoline engine, coming from the west, bumped into it. The velocipede was thrown off the track and its third wheel and connecting bar were broken. The auto was not damaged.

Retail merchants desire Anderson Pace, advertising expert with Butler Bros., of Chicago, as the speaker at their annual banquet to be held this fall. He has been asked to name the day he can be here and the date of the banquet will be made to suit his convenience. Mr. Pace made a hit as speaker at the state meeting at Alton this year. The banquet will be held in the Moline Commercial club rooms, and will be open to ladies and friends of members. Mr. Pace's specialty is advertising methods and this will be his topic if he comes to Moline.

MANY ORGANIZATIONS WILL ASSIST CANVASS

Other organizations besides the Greater Moline committee will be interested in the canvass for $18,000 with which to buy the Barnard homestead as a site for the proposed Augustana hospital. Every civic body in the city, merchants, real estate men, manufacturers and others, will be asked to get out and hustle. Much is expected of the women, who are showing enthusiasm in the undertaking. The campaign arrangements are practically decided upon and the canvass will begin next Monday and continue for five days. Workers will meet at luncheon each day and will devote from 1 to 3 each afternoon to soliciting subscriptions. Each day this week the steering committee of the Greater Moline body will meet at luncheon at the Manufacturers' hotel. A publicity committee has been named composed of L. R. Blackman, chairman; R. A. Jones, John W. Wallace and T. I. Stanley.

MEXICANS USE KNIVES AND ARE UNDER ARREST

The first named is accused of assault with a deadly weapon and the second with carrying concealed weapons. The two Mexicans became involved in a quarrel with McNulty and attacked him, Roska cutting him in several places with an ugly looking knife. One gash in the shoulder is serious. When an officer came to arrest the Mexicans both drew knives and prepared to fight, but were overpowered before they had done any damage.

Police Notes.
Tony Callos, a Moline cobbler who was wanted by the Rock Island police, was arrested here last night and today was turned over to the authorities of the neighboring city. He is accused of taking $100 from John Gust. Jim Donahue, a beggar was arrested last night after he had threatened some young men with a knife. This morning he was allowed to go on promise to leave town. He said the young men were hooting at him and he drew the knife in self defense.

BAD FOR PRONUNCIATION.

Silent Reading and Neglect of Conversation Are Harmful.

Perhaps the most potent of influences toward diverse pronunciation, especially difference in accent, is the fact that we seldom or never hear in conversation a vast number of words which nevertheless constitute an important and indispensable part of our vocabulary.

"By silent reading and neglect of conversation language itself," declares Richard Grant White, "is coming into disuse." The result of this practice is not only that we are always mentally registering pronunciations peculiar to ourselves, which we have no means of ascertaining to be uncommon or ridiculous, but also that the natural tendencies of our language, unrestrained by the conservative force which occasional use in conversation might exert, rapidly foster new pronunciations and produce a diversity of pronunciation even among the most careful speakers.

All these influences obviously supplement each other in resisting any trend toward uniform pronunciation and facilitate the progress of the tendencies of speech peculiar to our English tongue.—Robert J. McNair in Atlantic Monthly.

A Fleet Street Story.

Henry Arthur Broome, in "The Log of a Rolling Stone," says that in 1871 he was engaged in wood engraving for Punch when one day, at the end of the week, short of money, he stood gazing longingly at the cherries on a costermonger's barrow which stood abreast of the offices of the London Telegraph. His gaze arrested the attention of a gentleman whom he had often seen there before, though not at midday.

Then a kindly deed was done. The gentleman, averting his gaze from the cherries, purchased two paper bags of this fruit. Then, placing one of them in the pocket of his capacious dust coat, he turned to me with the sweetest smile imaginable and without a word offered the other one to me, which I gratefully accepted. He then passed on and went upstairs to the offices of the newspaper. That was my first introduction to the prince of journalists, George Augustus Sala.

Duluth.—The steamer Juniata of the Anchor line arrived in Duluth a day late owing to a storm on Lake Superior. The 50 passengers seemed to enjoy the rough experience, women singing the latest song hits while the wind raged.

Don't waste your money buying plasters when you can get a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment for 25 cents. A piece of flannel dampened with this liniment is superior to any plaster for lame back, pains in the side and chest, and much cheaper. Sold by all druggists.—(Adv.)

POLICE BUTT IN ON LIVELY SCENE

Events Happen Rapidly When They Respond to Call to Stop a Fight.

TWO MEN BEATING THIRD

Woman Throws Baby to Ground and Faints and Crowd Threatens to Mob the Assaultants.

Seldom have the creators of melodrama ever staged anything with more action than the scene in which the police figured, when they responded last evening to a frenzied telephone call from Railroad avenue and Seventh street. Two men, the police's informant declared, were using their almost efforts to send a third to the happy hunting grounds.

Losing not a moment three officers rushed to the scene in the auto patrol. They found two men holding a third one down on the ground beating him to a jelly. They quickly stopped the fracas and bundled all three in the hurry up cart. While they were doing so the wife of the victim of the assault rushed into the crowd carrying her babe in her arms. Seeing the blood on the ground and learning that her husband had shed it she became hysterical, threw the infant into the air, screamed and fainted. The husband, hearing her, started a fight to get to her side.

CROWD THREATENS.

The crowd, which numbered 100 men and boys, few of whom could understand English, became wrought up when the woman swooned and closed in bent on taking the two men who had been doing the beating away from the police and giving them a taste of their own medicine.

It was an exciting moment. What with keeping the three prisoners in hand and preventing further hostilities, caring for the woman and explaining the situation to a mob which couldn't understand English, the officers had their hands full. It didn't take them long to discern that the best course was to make a run for it and this they did, opening up the throttle and dashing away at the imminent risk of running down members of the crowd.

At the station the three prisoners told their stories. It developed that Bronislav Atkocitis, a saloonkeeper at 1202 Third avenue, and Charles Gramat, his porter, had made the assault and that Justin Damaszavski had been doing the receiving act. Atkocitis' saloon had been robbed and $12 in cash and a $25 watch taken. The saloonkeeper suspected Damaszavski, who lives at Eighth street and Fourth avenue.

HUNT THE ROBBER.

Taking the porter along the saloonkeeper set out to find the supposed robber. Damaszavski was located and charged with the theft. He strenuously denied it, but his word was not accepted and his accusers set out to convince him that he had made a misstatement. They had him pounded to a pulp when the police came, a bad cut being inflicted over one eye and the left ear being nearly torn off. However, he persisted in his claim of innocence and later at the station stuck to the denial. All three will have a hearing next Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

It was learned that the baby was not hurt when it was thrown to the ground.

Turner is recovering from the effects of poison. All concerned were followers of a spiritualistic cult.

Food Superstitions.

Dyak Warriors Won't Eat Deer For Fear of Becoming Timid.

In rural Germany one still meets with a superstition that he who eats during a thunderstorm will be struck by lightning. Abstaining from food during an eclipse is common among savages; also a belief that in eating the flesh of any animal one absorbs that animal's characteristics. Thus an Indian tribe highly prizes tiger's flesh as food for men, but forbids women to eat it lest it make them too aggressive.

In the Kongo women are forbidden to eat birds of prey on the same principle, but are encouraged to eat frogs, which the men on no account ever touch. In the Caroline islands black-birds are a favorite dish with women, but men must not eat them, because if one did and afterward climbed a coconut tree he would surely fall to the ground and be killed.

Among the Dyaks warriors must not eat venison because it would make them as timid as the deer. Fowls and eggs are forbidden to women of a Bantu tribe because on eating either a woman would certainly fly into the brush and never again be seen. Again, the flesh of many animals is forbidden because the animals themselves—for example, swine—are disagreeable to the eye or have untidy habits.—Exchange.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE KEEPS THE SCALP CLEAN AND STOPS THAT ITCHING

If your scalp itches you have dandruff. The itching is due to the increasing growth of the microbe that causes dandruff and this sets up an irritation in the scalp. Itching scalp is merely a warning, for wherever there is dandruff there is bound to be a loss of hair. Falling hair is never so slight that it may be disregarded. Every hair that falls is bringing you just so much nearer the inevitable end—baldness.

To stop itching you must get rid of the dandruff. The removal of the scale-like accumulation is but one of the results that may follow the intelligent use of Herpicide. The bright, glossy beauty of the hair, formerly dead, dull and falling out and entirely lacking snap and life, can be associated only with a clean, healthy scalp. There is a world of satisfaction in the use of Newbro's Herpicide because you can see the results.

When troubled with dandruff and your hair growing thinner every day it is no time to experiment with some off brand preparation or a remedy which you are told is "just as good" as Herpicide. What you want is results—results that are assured. Newbro's Herpicide is guaranteed to do as claimed or money for first bottle refunded. Why take chances with the unknown article?

Sold everywhere in 50-cent and $1.00 sizes.

Applications at the better barber shops and hair dressing parlors.

Send ten cents in postage or silver to the Herpicide company, Dept. S., Detroit, Mich., for sample bottle and booklet on the care of the hair.
